EXPLANATORY NOTES

Trawling for Norway Lobsters

During 1962 it became legal to use otter trawls for the capture of Norway lobsters (nephrops norvegicus) in certain areas in the Moray Firth and Firth of Clyde during part of the year as well as in the Firth of Forth where such fishing is now allowed throughout the year. The results of these fishings are included in Table 14.

Crabs, Lobsters and Oysters

From 1st January, 1958, the landings of crabs, lobsters and oysters have been recorded in cwts. instead of numbers as previously.

Shrimps and Cockles

From 1st January, 1962, the landings of shrimps and cockles have been recorded separately, instead of being included with "other shell fish" as previously.

Classification of Squids

In the tables for 1954 and earlier years, squids were classified as demersal fish. It was decided in view of the zoological classification of squids as members of the mollusc group that it was more appropriate for statistical purposes to classify them as shell fish. Effect has been given to that decision in the tables from 1955.

DIGEST OF SCOTTISH STATISTICS

No. 21 - April 1963

Price 5s. per copy
(by post 5s. 6d.)

THIS 48 page Digest is prepared half-yearly by the Scottish Statistical Office, St. Andrew's House, Edinburgh, in collaboration with the Statistics Divisions of Government Departments. Apart from the more obvious statistics it includes information on capital expenditure and cost and proceeds of the nationalised fuel industries, road and canal transport, local authorities' income and expenditure, inland revenue duties, civil and licensing courts and the weather.

The wide scope of the Digest makes it of value to industrialists, business executives, economists, journalists and all who are interested in the social economy of Scotland. A feature of the Digest is the quarterly Index of Industrial Production giving a measure of the changes since 1948 in the volume of output of a wide range of Scottish industries.

The statistical information is arranged under the following headings.
