Exploring synergies on information management for EU coastal and maritime regions

DEDUCE

Final Conference

Brussels - 1 June 2007

PROJET COFINANCÉ PAR
LA UNION EUROPÉENNE

Nord Est SUD Ouest
INTERREG III C

Aims of the Conference

The partners of the DEDUCE project organize a final event in the Delegation of the Catalan government in the EU institutions in Brussels, with the aim to present the results and main outcomes of the project and discuss their potential application in managing coastal and marine systems in the EU regions.

DEDUCE is an Interreg IIIC South project with the objective of validating the methodological tools necessary for optimal information management at the coast, following the principles and criteria established by the EU ICZM Recommendation.

The DEDUCE network would like to share these experiences with EU institutions and Member States and regions. Through a Round Table discussion, we will explore future opportunities and synergies, with existing and planned initiatives on integrated information management for coastal and marine regions.
