

Summary

Great maritime and fluvial development conference which took place in Paris in December was attended by over 250 participants.

Four topics were addressed during conferences presenting a large amount of cases studies:

- Facilities for sea and river transport
- Facilities for the production of renewable energies within the framework of the fight against the greenhouse effect
- Measures to combat hazards
- Urban development.

The aim of this conference was to promote sustainable engineering approaches and to strengthen cooperation with Mediterranean and also African countries.

It was attended with YPEP support by seven ENCORA members.